

OPERATIONAL LEADERSHIP: supervisory

EMPLOYMENT LAW AND SUPERVISORY PRACTICES

Today, more than ever, it is important for supervisors to understand the nuances of multiple employment laws in order to reduce liability and perform their jobs more effectively. Employment Law and Supervisory Practices increases supervisors' awareness of employment laws and emphasizes supervisors' responsibility to comply with laws at the leadership level. This class provides participants with synopses of key employment laws, guidelines for protecting themselves and the organization from liability, and employee counseling timelines and techniques.

Objectives:

By the end of this workshop, participants will be able to:

- Discuss key employment laws and responsibilities as supervisors
- Recognize the importance of Human Resources and documentations
- Identify ways to avoid a lawsuit
- Explain the process of employee development
