

PROFESSIONAL COMPETENCY: lead worker

TRANSITIONING FROM PEER TO TEAM LEADER

Making the leap from peer to team or crew leader is never easy. New team leaders frequently struggle to balance their old co-worker relationships with their new responsibilities. Transitioning from Peer to Team Leader teaches participants skills and techniques to make this important transition a positive and productive experience. This class challenges participants to accept new realms of responsibility involving productivity, safety, and public image. Building on that foundation, learners then work together to discover the three keys to a successful transition: acknowledge realities, be observant, and serve proactively.
