

Job Sites and Research Information of Assistance to MITs, Senior Advisors and ICMA/FCCMA Members – Second Edition March 2015

A Periodic Digest of Resources Prepared by Kurt Bressner, ICMA-CM, FCCMA/ICMA Senior Advisor, Florida

This is a supplement to the excellent Florida MIT Guide published in 2012 and available at this link. I urge you to download and use the MIT Guide as well. <http://fccma.org/members-in-transition-support/>

The following is summary listing of job sites. I may have missed a few so I can't call this a complete list. If you know of another site, please let me know and I will add it to the list. In the meantime, if any of these sites are new to you, try them out. They all offer free access to job hunters. The resource has been expanded to include information on careers in non-profits, job-hunting techniques, age discrimination and web sites to research specific locations and states. The summary also includes links to Judy Belmont's excellent articles about gratitude and positivity; important components of dealing with transition. The summary now includes a link to ICMA's national database on recognized jurisdictions. A link to the Florida League of Cities Research and Resources Library has been added. Also, information about age discrimination in job searches has been added. The recent update of the guide includes some excellent financial management tools. I have included some good job search resources via Twitter and a basic introduction to using Twitter and LinkedIn. This edition also includes helpful articles on resumes, interviewing and other help resources. As an appendix, please find a comprehensive list of interview questions that the Senior Advisor Program in Florida provides to interested agencies looking for a CAO.

Daily Job List Email Available for Free!

If you are interested in receiving a daily listing each morning of available CAO or Assistant CAO jobs, please email me. I receive the service compliments of Ron Holifield, President of Strategic Government Resources (SGR) to relay to MIT. Both Ron and I have been MIT so we understand the issues you may be facing. The daily job feed is a handy research tool available to you as a benefit of FCCMA and/or ICMA and the Florida Senior Advisor Program. A Florida MIT commented on the daily email list as follows: "I appreciate all the work you do daily for us MIT's - it is really helpful. For me, it helps me focus on evaluating the opportunities instead of trying to find them!" Contact me at kbressner@gmail.com to be added to the list. All I ask is that you inform me when you accept a position so I can remove you from the email list.

Information about Members in Transition (MIT) Programs

ICMA: ICMA members should consider registering for the ICMA MIT program. Benefits are listed here:

http://icma.org/en/icma/members/benefits/members_in_transition

Since ICMA membership belongs to the individual, not the local government, it is important for members to contact ICMA whenever there is a change in employment status. E-mail membership@icma.org or call 202-962-3680.

FCCMA: FCCMA members should consider registering for the FCCMA MIT program. Benefits listed here: <http://fccma.org/members-in-transition-support/>

If you are a member of both organizations, register at both ICMA and FCCMA as the benefits differ.

Model Employment Agreement from ICMA 2012

http://icma.org/en/icma/knowledge_network/documents/kn/Document/5345/Model_Employment_Agreement

This document serves as a model employment agreement template for municipal government administrators. Complete in its content, the agreement covers a wide array of topics, including business expenditures, performance evaluation, relocation expenses, and indemnification. It provides additional language on various topics, allowing local governments to choose the option that best fits their organization. ICMA Members can download an editable copy (in Microsoft Word format) to modify according to their needs.

Is the local jurisdiction recognized by ICMA?

Information about the Florida and ICMA Senior Advisor Program

Florida is fortunate to have an active and engaged Senior Advisor Program to assist members. We currently have eight Senior Advisors in service to providing the following basic services:

As volunteers, Senior Advisors provide, at no cost:

- Career and employment counsel to members;
- Guidance and counsel to members regarding ethics questions or concerns;
- Assistance to cities and counties with the managerial form of government;
- Assistance to cities and counties that are considering adopting the managerial form of government;
- Assistance to civic groups regarding the managerial form of government; and
- Assistance to members-in-transition (MITs) with guidance and direction as they seek new opportunities in public administration.

Senior Advisors are not “consultants,” but serve as colleagues and counselors.

Information about the Florida City and County Management Association (FCCMA) Senior Advisor Program can be found at:

<http://fccma.org/senior-advisors/>

Information about ICMA's Senior Advisor Program can be found at:
http://icma.org/en/icma/members/benefits/senior_advisor_program

All Florida Senior Advisors are members of ICMA and FCCMA. Senior Advisors are appointed by both FCCMA and ICMA to meet the needs of members of both organizations.

The Issue of Age Discrimination in Job Searches

Use age as an advantage. During interviews, concisely state how your experience and work ethic will help the public agency. Focus on accomplishments and how they translate to the needs of your prospective organization.

Regretfully, it exists. Here is a very insightful short blog by Arnie Fertig on the topic:

Florida League of Cities Research and Resources Library

If you are looking for background information about a community in Florida, this is a very helpful on-line database to obtain statistical summary data on Florida cities and towns. This may be helpful to evaluate whether to submit a resume or provide summary data before an interview. www.floridaleagueofcities.com/ResearchMaterial.aspx

The Research and Resources Library includes innovative features such as information obtained from the first CityStats Survey. More than 80 percent of Florida municipalities participated in survey. The results formulated individual city profiles and helped calculate cumulative findings.

It includes a Find a Peer City search tool to easily identify cities with similar characteristics and functions. The library also offers resources on current topics such as civic education, economic development and ethics.

This database of research reports, best practices and city statistics is a comprehensive resource on municipal governance, services and projects in Florida.
